

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Organising and Scientific Committee are delighted to invite you to the 22nd European Roundtable on Sustainable Consumption and Production (ERSCP 2025). The event will focus on "Multi-stakeholder cooperation on sustainability: Role of business, academia, public sector, and civil society in Sustainable Consumption and Production (SCP)" with key topics listed below. It aims to present cutting-edge approaches in sustainability, environmental protection, and low-carbon economy, fostering collaboration among diverse sectors and will be accessible both on-site and online.

The conference will be held from September 16-18, 2025, at the Czech University of Life Sciences, Prague with the PhD Day organized September 15.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Abstracts: Prospective authors are invited to submit abstracts of up to 500 words. Each submission must include a comprehensive title, the names and affiliations of all authors, and a clear description of the study's methods and expected conclusions. Abstracts must adhere to the provided template, which can be downloaded from the conference website. Please read the instructions carefully; the abstracts which do not adhere to these requirements and format will not be accepted and returned for resubmittal (always within the given deadline). Please carefully proofread the abstract before submission, and if necessary, have it proofread by a native English speaker.
